JOHN A. SHAEFFER, of Philadelphia, who has for a few years past been in the southern States, has had the effrontery to draw several Bills of Exchange on Timothy Pickering, Esq. To prevent further imposition, I have to request the printers of Newspapers in the United States to publish this for the benefit of their fellow-citizens. SAMUEL MEREDITH,

HAPPY DISCOVERY.

A certain Cure for that alarming and dreadful Disorder

The Yellow Fever,

As well as any other dangerous putrid fever, fever and ague, and other inveterate and complicated diseases, by the use of the

POUDRE UNIQUE,

WELL known and patented in England, France, Poland, and all the capital cities in Europe, where the most astonishing cures have been effected on persons judged incurable by all physicians. In a Treatise printed in London, on the properties of this powder, by T. Seymour, M. D. late Chemist to his Majesty, there are stated two hundred cases, where this most valuable remedy has proved infallible, in all kind of fevers, pleurisy, bloody flux, inverate rheumatisms, sciatica, apoplexy, paralysie, yellow jaundice, ringworm, worms in children and in grown persons, whites, chronical head and stomach aches, hepatick and nephretical or stone cholic, the kings evil, scurvy and the most inveterate and complicated venereal disease. It is likewise the best preparative for the small pox and measles; of the greatest utility for young as well as for elder ladies at the critical epoch of their life. The efficacy of this powder in several of the above diseases has been discovered by chance, and so it has been in the yellow fever last year, by Mr. Mahy, who cured several by administering only two of the said powders, and lost not a single patient which he undertook to cure, as proved and attested by the here annexed certificates, whose original may be seen at Andrew Hadfeg's umbrella shop, No. 131, corner of Chesnut and Fourth streets, the only place where these powders are to be had, with proper directions for the use of them.—Price two dollars.

The usefulness and certainty of this remedy being so great for so many dangerous disorders, any person wishing to be provided with those powders, will please to apply very soon, as the quantity at hand is not very large, and it is doubtful if for a long time, or if ever any other genuine will be imported, the secret remaining only in the hands of the inventor, in Europe, and never being communicated to, or discovered by any other person.

N. B. In the yellow and putrid fevers, this powder must be taken the second, or at least the third day.

We the subscribers, during the late sickness in this city, having taken the yellow fever, applied to Mr. Mahy for his medical assistance, we do hereby certify, that by a certain powder, called the Poudre Unique, we were perfectly recovered from the said fatal sickness, and from an experience of the happy effects of the above most valuable medicine consider it our duty to make the same known, for the benefit of our fellow citizens.

Forty Dollars Reward

FOR APPREHENDING

A GENTLEMAN NEGRO,

BY name GEORGE or GEORGE PARKER, the property of the subscriber, who has thought proper on the night of the 21st inst. to elope from his master without any provocation or just cause; he was formerly the property of Beckwith Butler, esq. and lived a considerable time with ——— Pottenger, who kept tavern in Fredericksburg, having seen much company and travelled with several gentlemen through different parts of this state, he is much known. It is therefore conjectured he will push for some of the northern cities or towns as he has discovered an aversion to plantation work, though he may perhaps have crossed the ridge where he has a brother belonging to major Butler.

This fellow is about five feet seven inches high, well proportioned and walks active and brisk, his countenance is open and agreeable enough when in good humour; he can hardly be surpast in shrewdness, and is a very capable waiting-man, house servant, barber, &c To describe his dress would be useless, as he possessed a variety of clothes, though when dressed lately, he wore a green coat bound with white ferreting and spotted jacket and breeches. Whoever brings him home or secures in goal in this or any other state the said slave, so that I may get him again, shall have the above reward. ALEXANDER VASS.

Smith and Chandler both of liberal education, and long experienced in their respective professions—As they intend under the patronage of a discerning public, permanently to establish themselves in this undertaking, their whole study and attention will be devoted to the improvement of their pupils.—These will be conducted upon the latest and most approved plans, through a complete course of academical studies, or those parts only that may be pointed out, as more immediately adapted to their particular views in life—Certain portions of their time will be affigned for geography, history, extracts, composition, and declamations in French and English, in order to form early habits of writing and speaking with propriety—Visits from parents and literary characters, tending to excite a spirit of emulation, will be gratefully received. The hours of study are from 9 to 12 A. M. and from 2 to 5 P. M.

They offer to translate the English, French, Spanish and Portuguese languages; and to draw in their proper modes and stile, all kinds of writing, whether legal, commercial, or epistolary.

The first Monday in November, they also propose to open an evening school for French, bookkeeping, surveying and navigation, of which they have a practical as well as theoretical knowledge. Communication.

Citizens of America,

TO menaces of vengeance, on the part of the French regency, have succeeded professions of peace But their practice still evinces the spirit of plunder and domination; and, while their practice thus falsifies their professions, you have palpable demonstration of their perfidy.

To judge men by their conduct, is unquestionably just. This rule, indeed, may be offensive to knaves; but to honest men it is precious. Applying it, therefore, to the French regents, you may be assured, that no reverence for public faith, no sentiment of liberality, no deference for your national rights, no abhorrence of rapine, no conviction of justice, has produced the recent change in their language.

Can you, with all your sagacity, be weak enough to believe that, because they have varied their cast of style, they have ceased to be avaricious, arrogant, unprincipled? Words cost them nothing: these, therefore, and these alone, they give with profusion. Such is their national friendship—the friendship of the robber, who boasts of his generosity and advances a claim of gratitude because he does not commit murder. But have you yet to learn that the cut-throat can pretend to humanity when he believes the pretence will facilitate his projects?

Political duplicity and perfidy are stratagems of the French warfare. Hence, it behoves you to mark well their language of pretended peace. Does it, in a single instance, propose a specific redress of your wrongs? On the contrary, does not the whole consist of ostentatious professions and general declarations?—Professions and declarations which pledge them to nothing, and which prove nothing except their purposes of seduction?

Their language, like their government, has been in a revolutionary state, and is metamorphosed as suits their rapacity or ambition. Thus, by peace, as applied to America, they mean a state of things essentially different from what honest men like yourselves would understand by the same expression. You, doubtless, would attach to it the idea of the enjoyment of your national rights, "liberty, sovereignty and independence absolute and unlimited as well in matters of government as of commerce."

They, however, mean by it such a state of things as they allow to their miserable provinces——a state of things which would give them the preponderance in your councils, the control of your elections, the nomination of your President, the appointment of your public ministers, the direction of your forces, the monopoly of your commerce, the command of your wealth—a peace in which they may rob and fight you at pleasure while you must submit with patience—a peace which, whenever they order, involves you in a war with the rest of the world—a peace which in its consequences, not only seizes your property but robs you of your honor, of your constitution, your systems of education, your domestic security, your morals, your religious liberty.

Such is the PEACE which they would allow you. If such be the peace you would accept—go! submit to the French Divan! own them for your masters! but renounce forever the name of Americans!

ALFRED.

FRENCH FINANCES.

The following report was made in the month of June last (1 Prairial.)

Council of Five Hundred,

"Villers in the name of the committee of Finance, answered the several objections made against his report, the object of which is to cover a deficit of 92 millions in the receipts for the 6th year, which have been fixed at 616 millions.

"The legislature said Villers, ought to be employed about the finances but once a year, that is, when it is necessary to see the receipts and expenditures—after that nothing more is to be done and I would not address you now on the subject, if the promised receipts had produced the expected amount.

"Here I must inform the council, that there will be reductions in the expenditures of the year 7, but it is impossible to operate any in the present year.

"Of all the objects of taxation specified in the law of the 9th Vendemaire last (30th September 1797.) I know but of one which exceeds the presumed product, it is the customs. It was supposed they would produce 8 millions, it is now certain that they have produced 12, but it must be observed, that this increase, arising from the seizure of English goods, is therefore only momentary and cannot be expected to continue.

"The Stamps fixed at 16 millions, will only produce 15; and the registering of acts and deeds, which was expected to produce 71 millions, will hardly bring 61.

"The measures now proposed by your committee are still insufficient, since they will only produce 18 millions, and we have to provide for a deficiency of 62 millions. These measures consist only of modifications of an existing law, and that others will be proposed to you successively by your committee.

"We yet have near 400,000 men under arms, whose pay amounts to three millions per decade, which makes 108 millions per annum; you are acquainted with the other expenditures of the republic. To defray all these expences the treasury has not received 200 millions since the 1st of last Vendimaire (22d Sept. 1797.)

"Although the peace is assured on the continent, yet we ought not to dissemble that the expence will remain the same while the negociations at Rastadt continue, and they have now lasted four months.

"Great Britain, which has only to defend herself against the French republic, has fixed her expenditures for the current year at 726 millions. I now ask, whether 616 millions are too large a sum for the expenditures of the republic during the same space of time!" [There never was a more palpable falshood.]

He moved that the report be debated by articles.

Chollet and several other members objected to such a precipitate discussion. They moved for a recommitment of the whole subject, and to adjourn the business until after the committee should have reported anew, and their report shall have been published.——Agreed.

GEORGIA SANSCULOTTISM!

AUGUSTA, Oct. 20.

October Term, 1798.

The following are the presentments of the Grand Jury of the county of Jefferson.

WE present as a public nuisance the Augusta Southern Centinel, and as a public grievance, the editor and printer thereof; for suffering to be inserted therein, anonymous pieces against the chief Magistrate of this State: A man whose abilities on every occasion have been honestly exerted for the benefit of his fellow citizens; whose services have done honour to his country, and on whose integrity and conduct, we have the most perfect reliance. Moreover, such scurrilous publications appear to be intended to take away the confidence of the people in the government of our country; which, when avowed publications, much less anonymous scribblers, are permitted to do, it is no longer the liberty, but the licentiousness of the press. And we conceive the said printer to have been tantalizing the inhabitants of this county, and insulting the public in general, when he impressed the late legislature with an idea, that he meant to establish a press in the town of Louisville.

On the oath of Valentine Hatcher—

2d. We present Matthias Dollon for stealing a steer from Jean Dawkins.

J. B. Spivey,	John Gamble,
W. B. Lochmon,	Wm. M. Gabee,
John Cowart,	Wm. Hardwick,
John Scott,	Wm M'Dowell,
Solomon Wood,	M. Shelman,
B. Whitaker,	Jesse Paulett,
John Cobbs,	Tand. C. Key,
Josiah M. Sterett.

[The foregoing is taken from the original, and published at the request of two of the Grand Jurors.]

It is unnecessary to add that the obnoxious Gazette has been uniformly distinguished, no less for brilliancy of wit, than constancy to the interests of federalism.

Citizen Talleyrand's last correspondence with Mr. Gerry has, in some degree, had its intended effect, in this quarter, by furnishing the French faction with fresh proofs (as they call them) of the friendly dispositions of that wretched nation towards this country; none, however but those cowardly and trimming democrats, who, from motives of fear only have given symptoms of their political conversion, or those brave jacobins who have kept a sullen silence, and thus preserved their sans-culotte virtue and dignity uncontaminated, contemplate these infamous epistles of Talleyrand Perigord, [that traitor to his God and his country!] in any other point of view than as a common manœuvre of revolutionary diplomatic skill: This is certainly the case, but it is not all;—it is the signal for vengeance and destruction to America, that moment it is in their power. The language of conciliation, when coming from the new government of France, invariably covers the most rancourous hatred and the most determined revenge, just as their denunciations of national punishment and annihiliation are mere bugbears—They calculate in the true spirit of villainy and duplicity, that in the one instance they will have all the advantages which a careless security on the part of the devoted can give,—and on the other, that they may obtain by threats what is inconvenient to be attempted by action. Examine their respective professions of friendship and fraternity to the several unhappy countries they have swallowed up, and this principle will be found invariably to govern; nay, descend to the individual victims of the revolution, and it will be found, that neither Louis XVI, Brissot, Danton nor any one who were suspected of possessing the least popular influence, ever received the final stroke of the guillotine but under the strongest assurances of mercy and forgiveness. From any hostile attacks, we have little to fear; but against French friendship and fraternity, God defend us!

The Secretary at War's letter to the governor, seems to be adduced by way of sanction to our State Constitution—hence there must be some doubt in the breast of the executive of its being well calculated for the happiness of the people of Georgia, or he would rest satisfied with the opinions of those whom its governs; the publication of the before mentioned letter ought to induce discussions of what may be considered the interesting parts of our constitution, that the community may be enabled to understand, how an attempt to rob one part of the citizens of their property, without even advantaging any other part of them, can conduce either to the interests or happiness of Georgians—also how far it is consistent with rights never before questioned, to change the channel of conventional elections and convert the legislature into a body capable of framing fundamental as well as incidental laws;—to search for the motives of making this change, as well as to investigate its true operation as to executive influence, whether such were the views of the present governor, or not;—to analize this happy constitution generally, and finally to endeavor to ascertain in what important points it differs from that copy (or rather original) which was fabricated in the county of Chatham previous to the meeting of the convention.

MENTOR.

Late Foreign News.

Translated for the True American.

HAMBURG, August 29.

The Prussian Minister, Mr. Shultz, has been insulted in this city in open day, and in the street.

Two young Merchants, barred his passage even at his own door with their horses. The Prussian ambassador grew angry; upon which one of these gentlemen threatened him with his whip. Some one observed to him that he should take care what he did, as he was quarrelling with the ambassador of the King of Prussia. But he replied in an intrepid and careless manner that he did not care for the ambassador of the king of Prussia and used insulting terms.

Mr. Shultz has taken up the affair very seriously; and preferred his complaint with much vehemence. It is even asserted he has given in his resignation to the Senate of Hamburg.

RIGA, (Russia) August 20.

In virtue of the severe orders of his Majesty, to prohibit the entry of foreigners into this country, an English vessel having on board English merchants and French emigrants from England, was stopped until permission is received from Petersburg to admit her. She has been five days at anchor in the gulph of Livonia, some distance from our road. The emigrants declare themselves belonging to the pretender, for whom they have dispatches; but they will have to wait as well as the others. The commandant of Riga has not been sorry to find this opportunity of paying them, for the favors which the Emperor has lavished upon the emigrants, since an asylum has been granted them in his states.

In general the natives of the country are jealous of the reception which has been given the emigrants. Another kind of jealousy that concurs to make them disliked is, that which they have caused the husbands to entertain of their wives.

Since the Pretender has established his court at Mittau, our court ladies are become more coquettish; and, perhaps, more amiable also; and this is what the men cannot bear. Several of our rich heiresses have gone so far as to prefer the indigent gallantry of these refugee chevaliers to the savage opulence of the natives of the country. Among the marriages which have taken place, we particularly remark that of the comte de Beaumont, who, without any other merit, brought as his fortune only an elegant figure, and uncommonly seducing manners.

It is said that the daughter of the governor of Kiow, is to be married to M. De Cazales, so well known by the part which he played in France at the commencement of the revolution.

It is however true that the partiality of our ladies for the French is a little over; and whether from the inconstancy natural to the sex, or, that disgust had really succeeded the amiability of their lover, they seem more shy of them. The Emperor, more constant in his taste, continues to load the pretender and his court with favours. The people murmur. But he, whose only aim is by this conduct to people his vast estates, procures them every means of establishing themselves. There is no emigrant, of a reasonable age, recommended by the French chiefs, who has not obtained a quantity of land, the produce of which is more than sufficient to supply all his wants.

The remainder of the corps of Conde is expected here. This army which has preserved only its name, since its entry into the Russian territory, for the purpose of maintaining a military jurisdiction over its members, is decreasing as fast as they can build habitations. The emperor views them as so many farmers; and the inviting of them to his Empire was only a political speculation.

PARIS, September 2.

Extract of a letter from Malaga, dated August 10, 1798

We learn a piece of intelligence which will appear somewhat strange to you, and will no doubt give room for some warm discussion between your government and ours. Three Spanish ships sailed from our port to get cargoes of leaf Tobacco; where? Even in the port of Gibraltar: and for whom? Even for the king of Spain who wants it for his works at Seville. Upon their return (from Gibraltar!) a French privateer stops them, finds them furnished with passports from the English Governor and conducts them to Algeziras. That is to say, that three Spanish vessels are about to be sold in a port of their nation by one of their allies. But you will ask us: Is the property proved to be English? "Are the papers of these vessels justly suspected?" "Is the communication with an enemy's port sufficiently clear." Yes; but we shall reply: "How! will you not suffer us to import lawful merchandiz from wherever we can find it, and above all in a port in which it abounds, in a port which lies between those who buy and those who are to consume it; Will you hinder your ally from supplying his manufactures, and thus drain the source of one of his principal revenues. The questions will be found knotty, and I fear may produce evil consequences.

ST. ILDEFONSO, (Spain) Aug. 27.

The events of which the disgrace of Jovellanos was the prelude are successively disclosing themselves. This ex-minister passed three days at Madrid, and set out on the 23d of this month for the Trillo waters, whence he will proceed to Gyon, the place fixed by the King for his residence. We are now at the period of Ostracism.

Thirteen distinguished personages, the greater part general officers, have just been exiled from the capital and from the court. Valdes and Negreti, two Generals, the one to Malaga, the other to Pampelune; the inspector of infantry, Pardo, to the coast of Grenada; Solano* Marechal de camp, to Saint Sebastian; Castaganos, to Badajoz; Cagigal, to Galacia; Vallejo, to Barcelona; the young duke de Crillon Mahon, to Estramadura, &c. It is not yet known who has instigated these rigorous measures. There is another selection from the court, but in a manner less painful, of three grandees of Spain, whose absence is thought to be more useful than their presence. The king having just given them diplomatic missions, viz the duke of Ossuna to Vienna; the duke del-Parque to Petersburgh; the duke d'Uceda, to Lisbon; other changes are expected. We are in every respect in a violent crisis, the result of which cannot be foreseen. The embassador of the French Republic is here permanently.

The Grand Inquisitor who is thought to be one of the principal actors in these alarming scenes, is himself menaced as the victim of them. It is much questioned whether he will not be sent to his arch bishoprick of Burges. His successor will probably be Musguiz her majesty's confessor, and according to the known character of this prelate, the strictest precautions may be expected. The health of the minister Scavedra, alternately gives hopes and fears. He is now unwell. It is said that the person named to supply his place, has been mortified by the foreign ministers refusing to confer with him; but we do not venture to speak positively.

The Ami des Loix, (for we still receive it) was not well informed when it said that citizen Truguet was daily expected at Paris. It is certain that he is still Madrid, and not disposed to leave it.

* Note of the Editor. This is the same person who with permission of the Directory, accompanied general Moreau, during the Campaign of the 4th year in the celebrated retreat from Bavaria.

Domestic Articles.

BOSTON, October 31.

Yesterday, the natal day of the beloved Citizen who presides over the interests and honor of the United States; was celebrated in this town, with unusual marks of high respect, veneration and esteem. To trace the numerous testimonials, which individual patriotism exhibited, would occupy a great part of our paper—we must therefore notice those only of a more general aspect.

In the morning, at noon, and at sunsetting, the ringing of all the bells, the firing of cannon, and sound of martial music, awakened and kept alive, the most grateful feelings.

The Theatre was uncommonly crouded, last evening. "Adams and Liberty," was sung and encored; as well as the "Green-Mountain Farmer." His Excellency the Governor, accompanied by Major General Elliot, and suite, and the Sheriff of Norfolk, honored the performances with their presence—The Columbian Museum was handsomely illuminated.

An elegant entertainment was given at Concert-Hall, at which were present, His Excellency the Governor; His Honor the Lieutenant Governor; the President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives; Judges of the Federal Court, and the Supreme Judicial Courts; Members of Congress, and of the State Legislature; Reverend Clergy; Foreign Consuls; Officers of the Army and Navy, and other distinguished characters. The following were the toasts given:

1. The Thirtieth of October; new style, May it ever be celebrated, while integrity, firmness and spirit are public virtues, and so long as American Independence is worthy of preservation.

2. The PRESIDENT of the United States—whose spirit animates his country, whose wisdom foils the intrigues of corruption, and whose fortitude leads anarchy in triumph.

3. Lieutenant-General WASHINGTON—the pride, the boast, the father, the protector of his country. In peace a senate, and in arms a host.

4. The congress of the United States—May they never again follow, instead of leading the public opinion.

5. The judiciary of the United States. May they continue to prove, that they are the constitutional bulwark and defence of rational liberty.

6. The Secretary of State—May the State always have such a Secretary.

7. The Secretary at War—May his eminent talents find ample employment, unless our enemies learn to be more just, or less insolent.

8. The Secretary of the Navy—May he never be addressed by our officers, unless to announce a victory.

9. The Commonwealth of Massachusetts—May she check by her vigilance and unanimity, every error which shall endanger the peace and happiness of the Union.

10. The Influence of religion on our laws—its Establishment on our hearts.

11. Our best national friends and only natural allies—our army, navy, finances and public virtue.

12. The American Eagle—May the plots of disorganizers be pierced by his eye, and their opposition fall under his talons.

13. Old times—Old principles, and none of the gipsey jargon of France

14. May we be armed against the insidious wiles of the apostate bishop. The sleeping crocodile is more dangerous than the roaring lion—Ask Switzerland and Geneva?

15. The Officers of the Army and Navy of the United States—May they prove themselves to be the legitimate sons of Mars, and may ther portion of his estate, be future fame.

16. May those who have organized into system, corruption and treachery, be forever excluded American hearts and harbours.

After the Governor had retired.

PHILADELPHIA,

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 7.

By the extortionate prices exacted by the market people for every necessary of life at this abundant season of an uncommonly abundant year, the poor Citizen is actually compelled, after escaping the horrors of pestilence, to suffer the evils of a factitious Famine. The consciences of these people is unfortunately the only tribunal we can appeal to, and one may judge how much is to be expected from that conscience which can attempt to exact Two Dollars! for a small Turkey in the month of November.

However laudable may be the motives which operate with the Schuylkill Tent Committee, to induce the proposed measure of marching the people thence to the City, in a body,—the obvious objections to the measure are so striking that it is surprizing they should not have been seen and felt. It is to be hoped the general disapprobation every where manifested at this intended step, will operate seasonably to prevent it.

General Washington is expected to visit this City, about the 1st of next month.

General Daniel Smith, late Secretary to the Governor of the Territory South of the Ohio, is elected a Senator from Tenessee, in the room of Andrew Jackson, Esq. appointed a Judge.

The reign of Justice.

In the House of Representatives of the state of Vermont, on the 24th ult. Mr. Allis moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That Isaac Clark, a member of this House, having been guilty of a high misdemeanor [concealing the votes in favor of the Federalists] and breach of trust, as one of the Committee for receiving, sorting and counting, the votes for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Treasurer, and Counsellors, be expelled from this house. Agreed to.

Message from the Governor of Vermont, to the General Assembly of that States, on the 23d ult.

In Council, Oct. 23, 1798.

MR. SPEAKER,

I do myself the honor to lay before the General Assembly, certain papers, together with an application made to me by a deputation from a number of Indian Chiefs, of the seven nations of Lower Canada, who conceive they have an equitable claim to compensation for the loss of their Hunting Lands, within this state.

As they are attending in this place, for the sole purpose of receiving an answer to their application, you will give me leave to suggest the propriety of an early attention to the within communications.

ISAAC TICHENOR.

We are authorised to say, that the Hon. Elbridge Gerry, Esq does not wish to be considered as a candidate for the second middle district, as he will not serve, if unanimously chosen. Col. Cent.

The chiefs, Tinowee, Assabnassah, Sonoooowosee, Tansah, Tooonowaptassee, and Goodstream, were then introduced to the honorable house.

The latter delivered a talk, expressive of the object of their mission, in which he hoped, that as they had come so far, from the Great Council fire of their own nation, to talk with the great council of Vermont, in their big wigwam in Vergennes, they should be heard with attention—that "the Great Spirit might brighten the chain of friendship between us, & keep it so plain, as that a little child may find it when the sun is asleep in his blanket."

After delivering their credentials, the chiefs retired, and the subject was committed for the consideration of the House.

Last Sunday morning the body of a woman, seemingly about 24 years of age, was found on the Wilmington road, in the state of Delaware, a little beyond Naaman's creek, with her throat cut into the bone of the spine—her left hand was deeply wounded, probably in the struggle she had made to save her life. Her dress was pretty nearly that marked as "gay quakers;" she wore a white gown, white gloves, white satin bonnet, green petticoat, and drab cloak.

From papers found in her pocket, her name would seem to have been Patty Adams, and that she had lived with Squire Blackwood, Racoon creek, Jersey, from the 4th July till 6th September.

Dover, (Del.) November 2.

Celebration of the President's Birth-Day.

Tuesday last the 30th of October, the anniversary of the birth of our illustrious President JOHN ADAMS, was celebrated in a manner worthy of the memorable occasion, and highly indicative of the patriotic spirit of our citizens. A very large company of Gentlemen, partook of an elegant dinner prepared for the purpose at captain Furbee's tavern, to which Judge Cushing, and Judge Bedford (the Circuit Court of the United States being then in session) and the honorable James A. Bayard were invited. After dinner the following toasts were drank:—

1. The President of the United States, and the auspicious day which gave him birth.
2. Lieutenant General George Washington.
3. The Constitution of the United States—the palladium of our rights and liberties.
4. The Judiciary—the pillars of society and government.
5. The members in both houses of Congress—may wisdom, virtue and energy mark their legislative measures.
6. Our late Commissioners to the French republic—may their example be the model of American "diplomatic skill."
7. War in preference to a dishonorable peace.
8. The American character—may it be distinguished by kindness to its friends, and vengeance to its enemies.
9. The Navy of the United States—may it avenge the injuries, and efface the insults offered to our country.
10. The American Eagle—may it soar triumphantly through the regions of the world.
11. The true Patriot—the supporter of the laws, and the enemy of licentiousness.
12. The Alien and Sedition Acts—Salutary laws—a prompt and faithful execution of them.
13. The army and militia of the United States—useful executive bodies when ordinary means fail.
14. The Democrats—may they repent of their sins and be forgiven—turn from their wicked ways and live.
15. Commerce and Agriculture—the mutual support of each other, and inexhaustible sources of wealth to this country.
16. The American Fair—amiable, beautiful and lovely—may their smiles be ever the distinguishing and enviable reward of the virtuous and the brave.

VOLUNTEERS.

The Judges being absent.

Judge Cushing—may his charge to the grand jury be the creed of Federalists.

Judge Bedford.

Timothy Pickering—may he continue the contrast of his predecessor.

By Capt. Ifrael—May every man professing federal principles at all times hold himself in readiness to support them with his life and fortune.

By Judge Cushing—Governor Bassett.

By Judge Bedford—The reign of federalism, may it continue to descend and refresh the American earth, without obstruction from the shrubs of democracy.

By Mr. McLane—Matthew Lyon's fate to all the spitting faction.

By Mr. James A. Bayard—The American people—may they be sensible that their government is a part of themselves.

By Mr. George Read—The rose of federalism—may it eternally bloom.

By Doct. Sykes—The empire of the Seas—may it be governed by the laws of justice, and not of force.

By Mr Barratt—Alexander Hamilton.

By Mr Saml. White—A successful coalition of all the nations of the earth against the insolent tyrants of France.

By Mr Hamilton—The Secretary of the Navy.

Newark, Nov. 6.

We are informed by a gentleman from Vermont, that Gen Fletcher, (Sheriff of Windham County) on his way to Vergennes, the seat of government, was attacked, on the West side of the mountain, by a party of Lyon's deluded wretches, who attempted to dismount his federal badge; but being armed with a well loaded hunting whip, he resolved to defend himself, for which purpose he aimed a stroke at one of them, which killed him on the spot. The Gen. we are told, has surrendered himself for trial.

PROPOSALS,

BY THE

Insurance Company of North America.

For INSURANCE against FIRE, on Dwelling-Houses, Ware-Houses, and other Buildings (and on Goods contained in such Buildings) distant from Philadelphia, in the United States.

I. Common Insurances, on hazards of the first class, will be undertaken at a premium of about half per cent. per annum. For extra hazardous risques a larger premium will be required, which will vary according to circumstances, seldom exceeding one per cent. per annum; but in some instances, where the property insured is not only in itself extra hazardous, but rendered still more so by the vicinity of extra hazardous buildings and occupations, the premium demanded will be raised according to circumstances.

Houses and Ware-Houses, the walls and partitions of which are wholly of stone or brick, well constructed, so as to be guarded as well as may be against fires from within, and free from extra hazardous buildings and occupations in their neighborhood, will be deemed hazardous of the first class, and may be insured to their full value.

Also Goods and Merchandize, not of an extra hazardous kind, in casks, bales, or packages, deposited in such buildings, to an amount not exceeding 4000 dollars; but if more than this sum is required to be insured in one tenement, an additional premium will be required, in proportion to circumstances.

II. Insurances will also be made on buildings and goods extra hazardous, at premiums proportioned to the risque. But it is not easy to arrange these under particular heads or classes, so as to describe each with the necessary accuracy. Each case must therefore be decided upon according to the circumstances attending it; and these circumstances will, in general, appear from the description accompanying the application.

Buildings partly constructed of brick or stone, are preferable to those wholly wooden. And in both cases, the stile of building, how they are occupied, how they are situated, the neighboring buildings, and how occupied, are considerations to be taken into view. And with respect to goods, their tendency, whether from their nature, or from the manner in which they are exposed, either to commence or to increase an accidental fire, and their liability in such state to receive damage by wet, or by sudden and hasty removal, or to be stolen in time of confusion and hurry, are all circumstances of weight; and the premiums must be proportioned accordingly.

III. The following conditions are to be understood by the parties.

1st. The Insurance is not binding till the stipulated premium be paid; but it shall be deemed effectual from the time of such payment and acceptance thereof, whether the policy be immediately signed or not.

2d. Insurances may be renewed at the expiration of the term of the policy, without further expenses than the payment of the premium of the renewed term, the circumstances continuing the same as they were understood by the Insurers at the time the former insurance was made; but the payment of the premium is essential to such renewal; and if the party insured suffers any time to elapse after the expiration of the former insurance, before he pays a premium for the renewal, he is not insured during such time; nor can the insurance be renewed on the former policy but by computing the commencement of the renewal from the expiration of the former insurance. The subject of insurance may nevertheless be open to treaty for a new insurance.

3d. If any other insurance be made on the same property; it must be made known at the time of application, otherwise the policy made on such application will be void.

4th. Goods held in trust, or on consignment, may be insured as such in a separate policy; but they are not to be considered as insured otherwise.

5th. This company will not be liable or accountable for any loss or damage occasioned by any foreign invasion, or by any military or usurped force or by reason of any civil commotion; or occasioned by gunpowder, aquafortis or other thing of the like kind kept in the building, or amongst the property insured.

6th. Bills of Exchange, Bonds and other Securities, Title Deeds, Money, Bank and other promissory Notes, are not included in any insurance; nor are paintings, medals, jewels, gems, antique curiosities, or mirrors exceeding the value of twenty-five dollars each, to be considered as insured unless particularly mentioned and by special agreement.

7th. No insurance will be made for a shorter term than one year, nor for a longer term than seven years. Persons choosing to insure for seven years shall be allowed one year's premium by way of discount: One third of a years premium shall be abated in like manner on an insurance for three years.

8th. Losses sustained by fire on property insured, shall be paid in thirty days after due proof and liquidation thereof, without deduction.

A description of the property to be insured will be expected with each application, to be made by a master carpenter and signed by him, as well as by the owner of the building or applicant for insurance, and attested before a Notary or principal Magistrate, who will certify his knowledge of the parties and their credibility.

With respect to Houses and other Buildings.

1st. The site and position; describing the street or road on or near which the building stands; its contiguity to water, and other circumstances relative to the extinguishment of fire in case of accident; and particularly whether any and what fire companies are established, and engines provided, in the place or neighbourhood.

2d. The materials of which it is built, whether of brick, stone or wood, and what part of each, as well as to the outside walls as inside or partition walls, and their respective height and thickness; the style of the roof and of what materials; how secured by battlements or party walls; what kind of access to the top of the house and to the chimnies; whether any and what electric rods; the number and kind of fire places; and the kind of deposit for ashes.

3d. The dimensions of the building and how divided, and the style in which it is finished so as to enable indifferent persons to judge in what manner it is to be repaired or rebuilt in case of injury; the age and condition of the building, and how occupied, whether merely as a dwelling house, or for any other, and for what purpose, also an estimate of the value of the house or building independent of the ground.

4th. The situation with respect to other buildings or back buildings, whether adjoining or not, comprehending at least one hundred feet each way: what kind of buildings are within that distance, how built, of what materials, and how occupied or improved, whether as dwellings for private families or otherwise: whether any and what trade or manufactory is carried on, and particularly whether there be any extra hazardous articles used, or usually deposited in the house, or within the distance aforesaid, and of what kind.

Respecting goods in Houses, Warehouses, &c.

1. A general description of the building in which they are kept will be expected, similar in all respects, as to the danger from fire, with that required for Insurance on the buildings themselves.

2. A description of the kinds and nature of the goods, whether in casks or other packages, or opened; and whether displayed in whole pieces or in the usual form for retailing. And if the goods vary materially in kind, a general estimate of the value of each kind proposed to be insured; but in the last particular minuteness of description is not expected.

3. Articles of the following kinds are deemed extra hazardous, though in various degrees, in whatever building they may be placed, viz. pitch, tar, turpentine, rosin, wax, tallow, oil, inflammable spirits, sulphur, hemp, flax, cotton, dry goods of an inflammable kind opened.—Glass, china ware or porcelain, especially unpacked; Looking glasses, jewelery; and all other articles more than commonly inflammable, or more than commonly liable to injury by sudden removal or by moistures, or particularly obnoxious to theft on an alarm of fire.

Letters post paid, directed to the Secretary of the Board of Directors, will be duly attended to. An order for Insurance accompanied by the means of paying the premium, will be immediately executed on the premium being paid. If the application contain an enquiry only, it will be answered.

By order of the Board,

Mills, Portage, &c.

TO BE LEASED FOR A TERM OF YEARS.

TO be leased, for a term not less than three, nor more than seven years, a VALUABLE PROPERTY at the Seneca-Falls, in the county of Onondago, and state of New-York, on the Banks of the Seneca-river, two miles west of the Cayuga-ferry, and eleven miles east of Geneva.

This establishment consists of an excellent grist mill, saw mill, dwelling house, barn, and a portage or carrying place, with between thirty and forty acres of land, under good improvement, and as much more in the vicinity, as may be required for future improvement.

The grist mill is a handsome, new and well finished building, of 50 by 30 feet, 3 stories high and furnished with a run of excellent Burr stones and another of Esopus' stones, of the best quality—and the most approved boults, &c. calculated to make all the different qualities of flour for exportation or for home consumption: It is accessible by wates from every part of the Cayuga lake and Seneca-river, as well as from the Seneca-lake—and from its situation, commands a very extensive and encreasing custom; The stream on which it stands, being the outlet of the Seneca-lake, the mill can never be in want of water; and as it has been kept working during the severest season of the last winter, it is not liable to be impeded by frost:

The saw mill is also new, situated on the same stream, now furnished with an ample stock of logs, of which a supply may at all times be procured by land or water, of the best quality:

The dwelling house is well calculated for the use of the miller, is new, and sufficiently large: The barn is about 40 feet square, and entirely new:

The portage is 3-4ths of a mile in length, along the Seneca-falls—over which were passed in the last year, nearly two hundred boats with their contents; this object is already productive of a handsome income, which must be increasing and permanent:

Among the many advantages of this situation, must be numbered the fertility of the surrounding country—being the best improved part of the county of Onondaga—the concentration of intercourse by land and water, the Genessee stateroad passing through it, as well as all water carriage to Geneva, and the counties of Ontario and Steuben; which renders it a most eligible stand for a Store or Tavern—The river and lakes abound in fish and fowl, and the country with deer and other game.

Besides the mills already erected at this place, it is calculated for any additional water works that may be found necessary—Fulling mill, bark mill tannery, forges, &c. may be erected at a small expence—Iron ore may be brought in boats from the Cayuga lake; and it is thought to abound in the neighborhood.

The stock on hand will be sold to the lessee, and the cattle, utensils, smith's forge, &c. may be sold or let the premises.

If a purchase should offer for the whole or an undivided part of the premises it will be sold.

For terms of sale or lease, apply to mr: WILHELMUS MYNDERSE, at the Seneca falls, or to the subscriber, at Schenectady.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That no other persons shall be entitled to the benefit of the provisions of this act, than those of the following descriptions, or their widows and heirs, viz. First, those heads of families, and single persons, not members of any such families, who were residents in one of the provinces aforesaid, prior to the fourth day of July, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six, and who abandoned their settlements, in consequence of having given aid to the United Colonies or States, in the revolutionary War against Great-Britain, or with intention to give such aid, and continued in the United States, or in their service, during the said war, and did not return to reside in the dominions of the king of Great-Britain, prior to the twenty-fifth of November, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three. And in case any such claimant shall have sustained such losses and sufferings, or performed such services for the United States, that he cannot justly be classed in any one general class, a separate report shall be made of his circumstances, together with the quantity of land that ought to be allowed him, having reference to the foregoing ratio: Provided, that in considering what compensation ought to be made by virtue of this act, all grants except military grants, which may have been made by the United States, or individual States, shall be considered at the just value thereof, at the time the same were made, respectively, either in whole or in part, as the case may be, a satisfaction to those who may have received the same: Provided also, that no claim under this law, shall be assignable until after report made to Congress, as aforesaid, and until the said lands be granted to the persons entitled to the benefit of this act.
